GEORGETOWN COUNTY
SOUTH CAROLINA

GEORGETOWN, S.C., OCT. 25th, 1900.

TO THE UNITED DAUGHTERS OF THE CONFEDERACY:

The undersigned, residing at Sampit, Georgetown Co., S.C., who is an Ex-Confederate Soldier and a member of Camp No. 768, U. C.Vs., hereby makes application for a Confederate Cross of Honor. Applicant entered the service of the Confederate States on the ____ day of Aug. 1861, as a private in Company E. 5, S.C. Cavalry of the 5th Regiment of South Carolina Volunteers, Butlers Brigade C.S.A., and was at that time a resident of Sampit, S.C.

Your applicant was honorably discharged from said service by officer in charge, Scharlotte, N.C. on the 15 day of April, 1865, at which time he held the rank of private.

Respectfully,

B.D. BOURNE,
Applicant.

We endorse the above application.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT

TO THE MEMORY OF COMRADE B. D. BOURNE

By Camp Arthur Manigault
No. 768, United Confederate Veterans

Whereas, This camp has heard with sorrow of the recent demise of Comrade Benjamin D. Bourne at his home on Sampit, in this county, a comrade who was sincerely attached to the organization because of its high and noble purpose to keep alive and forever maintain the patriotic principles for which he contended in the great struggle for southern rights.

And, whereas, It is fitting and proper that we should put upon record our estimation and appreciation of those qualities of head and heart that made him a man and soldier worthy of esteem while he lived, and to commemorate and reverence them now that he has passed into the realms of eternal light.

Resolved, That in the death of Comrade Bourne, this camp has lost a valued and respected member, a true and tried veteran, and one whose love for it, and the principles it would foster and perpetuate, was excelled only by that patriotic devotion which impelled him at a very youthful period of his life to take up arms in defense of his home and his country; to fight with invincible courage in a cause he believed to be right, and to stand unshaken, with face to the foe, 'til the starry-barred banner was furled forever by the hand of fate.

Resolved, further, That a blank page in the minutes of this camp be dedicated to the memory of our departed comrade; that a copy of these preambles and resolutions be published in the Georgetown papers, and a like copy sent to the family of our deceased comrade.

5th South Carolina Cavalry Regiment

1861-1865.

Brief History.

The origins of the 5th SC Cavalry can be traced to Captain Robert J. Jeffords' Co. (South Carolina Rangers) SC Mounted Militia, and Captain Wheeler G. Smith's Co. (Beech Hill Rangers) SC Mounted Militia. These volunteer companies were organized in Charleston and Colleton Districts, respectively, during the summer of 1861, under authority of a "Resolution for the Defence of the Sea Coast of this State" passed by the Secession Convention on 8 April 1861, and were incorporated into the 1st (Martin's) SC Mounted Militia Regiment, commanded by COL William E. Martin, in September of that year. Martin's Regiment was called to active duty in November 1861, in response to the occupation of Port Royal by Federal troops, and its companies were dispersed to various points along South Carolina's southern coast.

On 7 December 1861, the South Carolina legislature enacted a measure enabling the Governor to call out the militia for 12 months' service, and allowing for the organization of troops into regiments, battalions, and squadrons. Two days later, the Governor issued a call for 12,000 volunteers for 12 months' Confederate service, and ordered a draft to meet the required number if sufficient volunteers were not forthcoming. The effect of this proclamation was to require all volunteer military organizations to reorganize for 12 months' service, which Jeffords' company did almost immediately.

Colonel Martin was given until 1 February 1862, to reorganize his command, which at its height numbered some 21 companies on paper. However, he soon encountered several obstacles. Many men were unwilling to reenlist for 12 months, especially when told that credit would not be given for time already served. Further, the provision allowing for the formation of cavalry into squadrons of four companies, as well as regiments of 10 or more companies, prompted several of his more ambitious officers (including Captain Robert J. Jeffords) to begin efforts to form their own independent commands, effectively placing them in competition with Martin for the mounted companies.

By the February deadline, Martin had secured commitments from only eight companies, despite continuous politicking and advertising in the Charleston newspapers. In a final effort to preserve his regiment, he appeared before the South Carolina Executive Council on 12 February, and requested an additional 20 days to raise the last two requisite companies. However, his request was refused "inasmuch as it was at variance with the plan of organization at present adopted by the Chief of the Military Department." The state's military authorities had apparently decided that several independent squadrons, instead of a single regiment, were better-suited for the administration and control of cavalry troops in the coast defense role, which required that they be dispersed in small detachments over wide areas of the country. The Mounted Regiment was therefore disbanded, and its various companies were individually mustered out of state service over the next several weeks (although some would not receive their final pay until April).

Following the disbanding of the 1st SC Mounted Militia, Jeffords' Co. (the South Carolina Rangers) entered Confederate service with two new companies from Charleston (the Dixie Rangers and Willington Rangers) as Jeffords' Squadron SC Cavalry. The Beech Hill Rangers joined the squadron in April 1862, and Jeffords' Squadron subsequently became the 6th (later, 17th) Battalion SC Cavalry. These companies ultimately became B, C, D, and G of the 5th SC Cavalry.

Another predecessor organization was formed in December 1861 January 1862, as the 1st Battalion SC Cavalry, but was officially designated the 2d Battalion (Squadron) SC Cavalry upon its acceptance into Confederate service. It was commanded by Major Paul Stroman Felder of Orangeburg District until its reorganization in May 1862, after which it was commanded by Major Joseph H. Morgan, and redesignated the 14th Battalion SC Cavalry. The companies of this organization became A, F, H, and I of the 5th SC Cavalry.

The 6th (Manigault's) Battalion SC Volunteers was organized with a mixture of infantry and cavalry companies in late 1861. Co. A (St. James Santee Mounted Riflemen) was divided into new Companies A and B in May 1862, and new Co. B St. James Mounted Riflemen became an independent cavalry command under Captain Louis Augustus Whilden, of Christ Church Parish, Mount Pleasant, Charleston District. This unit became Co. E, 5th SC Cavalry. Harlan's Co. SC Cavalry was organized at Columbia in December 1862, and was commanded by Captain Joseph Gist Harlan of Unionville, SC. Harlan was previously first sergeant of Co. D, SC Hampton Legion Cavalry Battalion. Harlan's new company became Co. K, 5th SC Cavalry.

On 18 January 1863, the above companies and battalions were consolidated to form the 5th SC Cavalry Regiment. Its first commander was Lieutenant Colonel Samuel W. Ferguson of the 28th MS Cavalry, who was then at home in Charleston recuperating from injuries received in a fall from his horse. However, Ferguson never joined the regiment, and chose instead to return to the western theater, where he was later promoted to brigadier general. Consequently, Lieutenant Colonel Robert J. Jeffords served as acting commander until 28 July 1863, when Colonel John Dunovant was given permanent command.

Although officially designated a regiment, the companies of the 5th SC Cavalry continued to serve as detached commands assigned to coast defense duties at various locations in the Carolinas until March 1864. At that time, they were ordered to Virginia where the regiment assembled in April and along with the 4th and 6th SC Cavalry Regiments formed Butler's Brigade, Hampton's Division, Cavalry Corps, Army of Northern Virginia. For the remainder of that year, the regiment was actively engaged as mounted infantry in various actions associated with the defense of Richmond/Petersburg and the vital railroad lines that supplied the Army of Northern Virginia. Colonel Dunovant retained command until 22 August 1864, when he was promoted to brigadier general and given command of Butler's Brigade. Lieutenant Colonel Jeffords then commanded the regiment until he was killed at Burgess' Mill on 27 October 1864. For the remainder of the war, the 5th SC Cavalry was commanded by Captain Zimmerman Davis of Charleston, who was unofficially promoted to colonel on 15 March 1865.

In January 1865, the 5th SC Cavalry was reassigned to Wheeler's Cavalry Corps, Army of Tennessee, CSA, and returned to Columbia, South Carolina, under Lieutenant General Wade Hampton to check the advance of Major General William T. Sherman's troops from Georgia. Thereafter, it was involved in continuous skirmishing with numerically superior Federal forces as they moved inexorably north from Columbia, then across northeastern South Carolina, and finally into central North Carolina. The 5th SC Cavalry participated in the final battle of the Carolinas Campaign at Bentonville, North Carolina, and provided the escort for General Joseph E. Johnston when he met to discuss surrender terms with General Sherman at the William Bennett House near Durham Station, North Carolina, on 17 April 1865. The regiment was included in the surrender of cavalry troops at Hillsboro, North Carolina, on 27 April 1865, and its remnants were officially disbanded at Greensboro on 2-3 May 1865.

Available records show that some 1,750 men served in the 5th SC Cavalry and its predecessors during the period 1861-1865. Of this total, 165 (9.4%) died in service, 125 (7.1%) were wounded, 258 (14.7%) were lost through discharge, desertion, capture, resignation or retirement, and 135 (7.7%) transferred to other units.

The following are passages from a book by Frank D. Neher outlining the antecedents of John W. Bourne Sr. John Bourne moved to Georgetown County from Jessamine County, KY prior to the 1830 census in Georgetown County, where he is listed through the 1860 census prior to his death. His father, Moses Bourne, was born in Culpeper County, VA, moved to Jessamine County, KY where he is listed in the 1810 census. Moses moved to Georgetown County from Jessamine County, KY prior to the 1840 census in Georgetown County, where he died. Copies of each of these censuses are found after the passages.

16. Henry BOURNE was born about 1719 in St Mary's Twp, Essex, VA. He was the son of 32. John BOURNE and 33. Elizabeth JOHNSON. Henry died about 1790 in Fayette County, KY.

NOTES for Henry:

MARRIAGE: See deed dated 28 Aug 1746 signed by Henry Bourne identifying "wife Ann, one of the daughters of William Morton" Orange, Co. VA Deed Book 10 p 479.

DEATH: There is no will or probate record in Orange Co. VA for the settlement of Henry's estate. Kentucky tax records indicate that Henry came to Kentucky with his sons by 1790. He appears in the 1789 Tax Records for Fayette County but not thereafter. This suggests that he died about that time. Ed Baliff research in Virginia: "Ann Miller, of Orange County Historical Library, said that the Bournes bought or leased lands from the Spotswood Estate along the Rapidian River just west of the old Orange Co. Court House located on the south side of the Rapidian. The location is in the area of the intersection of County Road 522 and 636. County Road 636 was designated as the River Road and said it was the road the Bournes traveled 200 years ago." Henry appears in 1787 Orange Co. Va. Tax List along with James, John, Reuben, Thomas and William (alphabetical listing). In the actual listing it is noted that Henry is charged with the tax for Thomas and Reuben thus they were dependant on him, but over 21.

He married 17. Ann Twin to Jane MORTON about 1743 in VA.

17. Ann MORTON was born about 1725 in Orange County, VA, the daughter of 34. William MORTON and 35. Anne BATCHELDER. Ann died in Orange County, VA.

18. John Jr BOURNE was born about 1707 in Essex County, VA. He was the son of 32. John BOURNE and 33. Elizabeth JOHNSON. John died 1774 in Culpeper County, VA.

NOTES for John:

DEATH MARRIAGE BIRTHS: Letter R.S. Duncan 1893 to James Bourne.

In 1734 John Bourne, Jr. sold his farm near Fredricksburg VA. and moved to Culpeper Co, VA on the Rapidian River, with brothers Andrew and Henry. Son Francis went to Kentucky in 1783-84 and led the "300" to Ky in 1789 in Fayette Co. in the fall of the year. They suffered extreme hardships both going and after their arrival. Story by Daniel Bourne as told by father, Francis s/o John, Jr. and Ellen Davis Bourne. John and Andrew were in St. Marks Parish which soon became Culpeper County. They obtained land from the Spotwood estate (see Orange Co Deed Bk 5 p 210-218) In the first deed dated 31 Mar

CHAPTER 6

GENERATION NO. 6

32. John BOURNE was born about 1672 in Rappahanock County, VA. He was the son of 64. Andrew BOURNE and 65. Christian _____. John died 1721 in Essex County, VA, and was buried in VA.

NOTES for John:

BIRTH: Richard Darden Bourne Genealogical History Bourne Family, Frankfort, KY Historical Society Library. All supported by Newman A. Hall documentation.

DEATH: John, Jr, Will Pro. 20 June 1721 Parish of St. Mary, Essex Co. VA. will book 3, pg. 258.

John Bourne and Elizabeth resided in St. Mary's Parish, Essex Co, VA on 87 acres of land formerly owned by his brother-in-law Richard Johnson and which had also been owned by Charles Taliaferro and who continued to own contiguous property.

BIRTH: of the children are taken from an abstract of Will, made by John Dorman and has the name of Francis in the place where James had been shown earlier and is thought to be correct per Edgar W. Bayliff, 1-27-1994.

Sarah Bourne by tradition married John Morton son of William Morton and Ann Batchelder, however this John Morton was born ca 1727 and his widow, Sarah, died in Woodford County, KY ca 1826. This unlikely chronology makes this speculation highly uncertain. Have good information that the wife of John Morton was Sarah Hawkins. Newman A. Hall says Sarah Bourne was not married. In Orange Co. VA. Deed Book between pages 228 and 229 a sheet inserted contains two items. The first is an assignment dated 7 Mar 1743/4 of a 156 acre lease from William Minor to Robert Bourne. The second is an item dated 20 Feb 1749/50 witness by Robert Bourn and Sarah Bourn. No evidence exists to indicate that neither Robert or Sarah were married, so these signatures are for brother and sister. Robert also appears in the Orange Co tithables in 1752 and Sarah in 1755 and 1756.

In the abstract of the will made in 1933 by Stout Lillard, an error was made to include another son James. The extract of the will by Dorman, above, shows the correct information.

He married 33. Elizabeth JOHNSON about 1705 in Essex County, VA.

33. Elizabeth JOHNSON was born about 1676 in Rappahanock County, VA, the daughter of 66. Henry JOHNSON and 67. Mary TALIAFERRO. Elizabeth died 1760 in Fredricksburg, Essex, VA.

CHAPTER 7

GENERATION NO. 7

64. Andrew BOURNE was born about 1650 in England. Andrew died about Jul 1695 in Rappahannock County, VA.

NOTES for Andrew:

On Aug 7, 1847, Daniel Bourne writing to his nephew Richard N. Young regarding the history of the Bourne family writes as follows: "About one hundred and ninety years ago (1657, my great grandfather Bourne with one brother and a sister came from England, and settled about six miles from the town of Fredericksburg in Virginia where he reared a family, and died. He left his place to my grandfather, John Bourne, where my father Francis Bourne was born. In the year 1734 when my father was only seven years of age, my grandfather sold his place near Fredricksburg, and moved to Culpeper County, about forty miles distant, and settled on the Rapidan River, it being then a frontier plain and abounding with wild game." By and large this is probably a valid record. On 26 Mar 1666 Robert Taliaferro and Lawrence Smith were granted 6300 acres on the Rappahonock River "about four miles above Ware Creek beginning on the east side of Snow Creek running up said River on the north side of said creek to a vale near the mouth of Nasaponuck (Massapomax) Creek. (From Newman Hall 30 Jan 1944) Among the 126 persons transported by the grantees to secure this grant were: Thomas Bone, Henry Johnson, James Harrison and John Gore (Gower)-all of whom will be mentioned subsequently. It is possible that Thomas Bone was a Thomas Bourne and could have been one of the Bournes mentioned in the referenced letter. The date is off by a few years, and a generation may have been skipped but this could well be expected. In any case the initial settlement of this Bourne Family cannot be conclusively established. However it is possible that the Bournes did come to this area earlier as reported. In 1666 this area of settlement was in Rappahannock County. It became part of Essex when that county was formed in 1692. Spotsylvania was formed in 1720 with Snow Creek as the eastern boundry along the Rappahannock River. Long before this time the Taliaferro family had increased its land holding to include areas bordering Snow Creek on the east. Caroline County was formed from the upper part of Essex in 1728. This area has always been part of St. Mary's Parrish. The earliest mention of an Andrew Bourne in Virginia records found so far is in Stafford Co., VA Orders 1689-1690 Item 570 court held 10 March 1689-90, where "George Luke makes suit that he had made an agreement on the fourteenth of October last with Andrew and John Bourne late of Plymouth, Devon in England to serve him for the full term of four years from April next ensuing in considering of paying their passage with their mother and one child more being the sum of five thousand pounds of tobacco--and forasmuch as the said Andrew and John Bourne did then at the time of drawing their indenture clandestinely steal away. George Luke--prays that an order for the said Andrew and John Bourne to serve according to the time profixed--." George Luke subsequently appears in the earlier records of Richmond County where he is referred to as "merchant of London". It is possible that Andrew and John completed their term of service with him in Richmond County and then moved across the Rappahannock to Essex County where they then appear on record. This identification is plausible but not confirmed. On 2 Oct 1700 (Richmond Co., VA Court Orders) "Administration is granted to Christian Johnson upon all & singular the Estate of Andrew Bourne deced during the minorities of Peter Bourne". It is known that Peter Bourne was son of Christian who appears earlier in Richmond County records as Christian Bourne. This administration appointment strongly implies that she had been the wife of Andrew Bourne whose last appearance in records had been in Oct. 1695. (Richmond Co., VA Court Orders 2 Oct 1695, will of Edward Price proved by John and Andrew Bourne.) Widow, Christian Johnson, appointed administrator of estate 2 Oct 1700. Richmond Co. VA Court Order 2 Oct 17 : "Ordered that Mr. Richard Shippie, Mr. John Fisaker, Walter Francis or any two of them some time between this and the next Court held do meet and do inventory & appraise all & singular the estate of Andrew Bourne deced." The date of birth is based solely on the estimated date of birth of his son. It could be earlier but not much later.

Earliest indication of marriage to Henry Johnson was the appointment of Christian Johnson as administrator of the estate of her former husband, Andrew Bourne. No children her second marriage.

 Christian married (2) 66. Henry JOHNSON about 1695 in Essex County, VA.

66. Henry JOHNSON was born about 1648 in England. Henry died before 1703 in Essex County, VA.

NOTES for Henry:

Richard Darden Bourne: Essex Co. VA. Deed Book 11, pg. 27, Will of Henry Johnson made 30 Oct 1702 pro 10 June 1703, to son Richard 400 acres.

Essex Co., Deed Book 11, pg. 25, Deed of Gift, 25 Jul 1695. Henry Johnson is intended to marry "gives his four daus, all under 21, personal property, Elizabeth the eldest, Sarah the second, Catherine the third, Ann the fourth and youngest dau."

Will: personal estate to be divided among four children: Richard Sarah Catherine and Anne, daughter Elizabeth "having had her part". "to be delivered to heirs when at age or marriage". Witnesses included James Harrison and Peter Bourne.

Henry Johnson was doubtless one of the individuals brought over by Robert Taliaferro, see Andrew Bourne notes. He and his son Richard had many associations with the Taliaferro family as Essex and Spotsylvania records indicated.

Date of birth is estimated based on the date of marriage together with the 1666 date of his arrival from England. At best it brackets the real date.

66. Henry JOHNSON was born about 1648 in England. Henry died before 1703 in Essex County, VA.

NOTES for Henry: See above.

He married (1) 67. Mary TALIAFERRO about 1675 in Essex County, VA.

67. Mary TALIAFERRO was born 1658 in VA, the daughter of 134. Robert TALIAFERRO and 135. Katherine aka Sarah Grymes DEDMAN. Mary died before 1695 in Essex County, VA.

NOTES for Mary:

This date is based on the reported age and birth of Mary Taliaferro and the estimated date of birth of the eldest child. The marriage is based essentially on circumstantial evidence. However, the relations between the families are many and there is no other evidence of marriage of Mary Taliaferro, daughter of the immigrant, Robert Taliaferro. A characteristic example is: Essex Co. Orphans Bk 3 p 353, 10 May 1707, Katherine Johnson, orphan, chose Francis Taliaferro as guardian, Richard Johnson chose Charles Taliaferro, Ann Johnson chose John Taliaferro. Another is the frequent occurrence of the name, Francis, in the Bourne family. Source: Richard Darden Bourne, The Bourne Family Genealogy, Kentucky Historical Society Library, Frankfort, KY; Newman A. Hall & Edward Bayliff who have provided extensive documentation for the Bourne Family.

MEMORIES OF LIVING AT THE PLANTATION

Benjamin Oscar Bourne
Born 1873 - died 1940
graduated from Wofford College, Spartanburg, S.C.
School of Business Administration, Poughkeepsie, NY

Papa was an outdoor person - loved hunting and fishing and often took me with him squirrel hunting. He never allowed me to shoot the gun as it was unladylike for girls to shoot. I enjoyed the woods and being with him, once I remember him bringing home a deer slung over his horse so we could all see it before it was dressed. When he found a faun whose mother had been killed he would bring it home and put it in a pen. Sometimes there were as many as six all being fed from a bottle like babies. When they lost their spots they were turned loose in the woods to fend for themselves. I remember swinging on the gate or picking violets in Katherine's little silver basket while waiting for papa to come home. Papa always seemed to have planned something interesting to do or have an interesting story for us.

He would take us to the cotton mill to see the cotton seeded and baled for shipping. The store was a fascinating place for me. I remember reaching into the open barrels of candy and crackers and roaming around the store to see everything. I felt most important when I was allowed to climb up on the high stools in the office and write at the desk. I also liked to go to the canning factory to watch the fruits and vegetables being canned. The pine trees were tapped for turpentine or cut down by hand to be hauled by mules to a little train then to the saw mill and sawed into lumber for use or for sale. Sometimes papa would take us for a ride on the train, or trolley.

Papa and I went fishing on the Sampit River sometimes bringing home a nice string -but always water lilies, jasmine or other flowers for my mother.

A lane passed our house going to the cotton fields so we always knew when the days work was done as Paul and Silas (twins) had learned to spell Mississippi and sang it to a tune of their own.

Our house servants were Lula the nurse, her mother, Mom Aimee, the washwoman. Her mother was brought over from Africa, and Frank, the cook, and a succession of others for house work. We dearly loved Lula and Frank. They had cabins on the place. To keep us out of his cabin Frank told us he kept a snake under his pillow for company. It worked.

Sewing was never sent out as a seamstress came to the house and worked at mending and sewing by the day.

After the bank foreclosed the estate, papa worked as a timber estimator though he was not educated in that field. When his health failed papa was given a job as game warden by the state of South Carolina. A better job was offered to him in Columbia but he refused to leave Georgetown.

My grandmother had a summer home in Hendersonville, NC where the family gathered a part of the summer and then to Pawleys Island to avoid Malarial mosquitoes. It was an all day trip by train to Hendersonville. There were no dining cars and we no sooner got settled than we began our lunch from the picnic basket. Coal was used to run the train and cinders kept getting into our eyes. Mama, who took things calmly, must have been exhausted from digging cinders from our eyes to riding herd on all seven of us.

Then came our trip home and on to Pawleys Island. When we first took Frank - the cook - with us we arrived about dusk. Frank walked to the top of the sand dunes and came running back screaming "the ghostes acomin".

One summer we had a terrible hurricane and everyone who could went to the Lachicottes, the only anchored house on the island. I must have been six or seven but I remember a man in a yellow slicker carrying me in his arms. Many children and their parents were there and we played while our parents got blankets and ropes to tie us to the tops of trees. Papa kept close touch with his barometer and when it began falling rapidly he got in his boat and made it to the island. There is a legend about old man Pawley's ghost who came to warn the old residents of trouble. My aunt Anna saw him not too many years ago. He would tap on doors and point toward Georgetown.

In my childhood it was an all day trip by paddle wheel excursion boats landing at Waverly where "hacks" met us for the ten miles to the island. Now it is ten minutes to the island from Georgetown. Later the island became crowded and papa had two house flats built that he towed to North Inlet in the summer - one had bunks and the other was for cooking.

Papa found a Negro sailor half-dead on the beach and nursed him back to health. He had been shipwrecked and from then 'old Bill" was my fathers right hand man. He would get drunk periodically and papa would fire him but the longest time was for two months before papa took him back he was also a great hunter and a faithful friend.

Old Bill went with us to the inlet where we fished, caught crabs, seined for shrimp and dug clams. He had never worn shoes and his feet were like alligator hides. He would put his toe down in a stone crab hole and pull up a crab more times than not and without ever a scratch.

After I was grown and had two children -Dick and Agnes - Marian, my sister, and I stayed on the flat while the others went fishing. We decided to swim to the Tamishaming thinking Old Bill was asleep. He caught us half way to the boat and gave us a dressing down. Saying" the Capt done tole me to look after you chillen". We came back. He was a part of our family.

Papa suffered a stroke at the age of 57 and from then on used a cane though he was far from incapacitated. He continued his work as game warden with the help of Adlai and Edwin who were then in their teens.

PART II

Life in the early 1800's was in a critical and unstable time. Small farmers lived mostly off the land with little stores scattered here and there that supplied coffee, sugar and other things not grown in their part of the country.

Land was cheap and virgin forests of pine sold for around ten cents an acre.

War was declared (1861) and men, young and old, were "called up" to defend the south against the more powerful north. My grandfather, Pa Bourne, as he was affectionately called later by his grandchildren, ran away from home at the age of sixteen to join his two older brothers who were fighting for their homeland. He returned home (1865) two and a half years later to find his parents had died while he was away and their home burned by the Yankees.

Most boys of his age would have become warped and bitter but not Pa Bourne. He started out as a woods rider - they were necessary at that time to prevent fires from destroying the timberlands.

At the age of nineteen he married Leonora Mercer. There was no money for diamonds - not even enough to buy a wedding ring. Years later he gave her a wide gold wedding band.

Ma Bourne's mother, "Maw Mercer", came to live with them after the death of her husband. She was short in stature but maybe it was all the petticoats she wore! She taught me to write my name in the sand with a twig.

Pa Bourne continued buying timberland, after some time, built a small house on the highest point in the flat country where they lived. Several of his children were born there. Three sets of twins were born and only one of each survived. My father was one.

After a time the slaves began drifting back. He built cabins for them and paid them small wages. They were not unhappy but glad for someone to feed and care for them. A few of the more intelligent never returned. Others not finding the "promised land" they expected returned.

Then began a building program. First a commissary to supply food for the "hands" and then better cabins for them to live in.

The diet for all consisted of corn, sugarcane with large vegetable gardens and plentiful wild game (deer, hogs, turkeys, quail and dove). Fish from a nearby river were caught. An orchard was planted -also grapevines. He then built a gristmill to grind corn into grits and cornmeal.

Next came a canning factory to preserve food for winter use. Peas and beans were dried in the sun. Sweet potatoes were banked in Eskimo type hills straw was first put down, then potatoes between layers of straw and soil and then banked in a cone shape with air holes on two sides. When they were needed a hole was dug into the bank and the potatoes taken out. They were far superior to today's kiln dried ones. A cotton gin was the next to come. The "hands" picked the cotton from the fields and were paid so much per hundred pounds. The cotton was then taken to the gin – seeded, then hauled for shipping.

A turpentine still was built near the river. The turpentine was collected then put into barrels and rolled to the Sampit River bank where they were lashed to rafts and shipped to Georgetown for sale.

Pa Bourne then enlarged the commissary - the only store of any size for miles around. There was a shed built in front where horses and mules were protected from the weather. "The store", as it was later called, included a grocery store, hardware store, farm implements, blacksmith shop and a millenary shop operated by a French milliner. Ladies from miles away drove over roads of deep ruts of sand to buy original French creations.

By this time Pa Bourne was considered "well to do" but continued buying in the Sampit vicinity but also Santee section of which he eventually owned most of the land. Now it was time to build the home that my grandmother had longed for. It was made of lumber from the forest and was three stories with piazzas around three sides on the first floor. There were white rocking chairs for the grown-ups and a joggling board for the many children (a joggling board is a long pliable plank supported on each end by a frame with slots cut to prevent the plank from slipping.)

A long corridor - the entire length of the house - ended in the dining room and beyond that a kitchen with a long table down the middle of the room. Wide boards were used for the table and the floor and were scrubbed each day until they were almost white. The back door from the kitchen opened to an orchard and then a vegetable garden.

To the left of the front door was a parlor that was opened only for very special guests and the preacher. Beyond that, a sitting room which corresponds to the family room of today. On the other side were three bed rooms and upstairs were many bedrooms on both floors a bathroom with so called running water which worked only when the river was high and water was pumped by the "hands".

The side yard toward the river was a flower garden. I remember the roses but especially one - a black rose that was imported. It is the only black rose I have ever seen.

The whole area was fenced in and outside the fence was an artesian well that flowed into a rock basin or trough where travelers stopped to water their horses. Some stopped for meals and there were always extra places set for the unexpected. No one was ever turned away.

A company doctor came from Massachusetts to stay for a year but stayed on and never returned to the north. He lived in Pa Bourne's home and was furnished a horse and buggy so as to care for others besides the family. Sometimes he took me with him on his calls. I would wait in the buggy while he ministered to the sick. He never allowed me to go into any of the houses with him, although I was curious about it all.

As each son married, he built a home for him in a semi-circle around the big house. He also built a church, parsonage and little red schoolhouse and donated them to the Methodist parsonage conference. The churches parsonage has been in continuous use ever since.

The cemeteries were across the road from the church - one for the family and another for the poor.

My grandfather was a smart and ambitious man but where his sons were concerned he was not a wise man. He over-indulged them, trying to give them all the things he never had and asking nothing of them in return. He delegated some small part of business to each son but none knew the over all operation.

Pa Bourne died at the age of 57. He was considered the wealthiest man in Georgetown County. On a large tombstone in the center of the cemetery was the inscription: he lived for those who loved him and the good that he could do.

My grandmother appointed David (uncle Dutch) as administrator since he was the eldest. He was the least qualified of all the boys. Before anyone knew what was happening the estate was bankrupt and the bank foreclosed.

My grandmother and Aunt Anna were allowed to live in the house as were the boys but after some time they moved away.

In 1914 the big house burned to the ground. Ma Bourne was bedridden but they managed to get her safely out. None of the lovely old furniture or many sets of china - some hand painted - could be saved. It was a sad for all of us.

Now nothing is left but the church, parsonage and cemetery with the latter completely filled. It is still cared for by Oscar and his family.
